

My Philosophies - Enthusiasm for teaching

The rewards I receive everyday, from a junior golfer that has just won a Little Linkster Tournament, or another that just hit his best tee shot on the 1st hole, are more gratifying than any formal awards. I get so excited when a student calls me from a tournament or comes straight from the 18th green to report their performance. Words truly cannot express my love for teaching or my feelings on the relationships I have with all of my students and clients. I truly believe that I have the greatest job in the world.
